71. With the end of Cold War, the real challenge facing mankind is how to retain the belicate balance between Man and Nature. The word “biosphere” is relatively new. It was introduced only in the late 60’s. It means “the thin layer of air, water and land on our Planet Earth, where life exists.” This thin layer is now endangered because of a head on collision between industrial civilization and earth’s ecology.

According to passage, the problem is.....

1. The effect of Cold war in Mother Nature
2. Massive production of industrial factories
3. Maintain the balance of nature between man and nature
4. Pollution in Air, Water and Land in what so called biosphere
5. The thinnest layer of atmosphere is endangered today

72. Culture is never frozen, never fixed once and for all, never pinned to an ornithologist's collection like all the assorted butterflies of Lepidoptera. A nation advances as its culture advances. But this culture can only be advance by borrowing from the rest of the world. Civilization comes and civilization goes on the strength of their cultural richness and fiber. Once this culture can no longer resonate, a civilization dies.

According to the passage.....

1. Culture is never stop, never dies, but it advances over and over again.
 2. Once the culture does no longer exist in a particular civilization, the civilization dies.
 3. Culture is a big factor for a nations improvement
 4. Culture can improve by borrowing some from another culture
 5. Civilization comes first before a culture.
73. Writing does not only make thoughts real, it does not only make truth real. It makes you real; it makes you flesh and blood, mind and spirit, body and soul. That is why they call it integrity. The man who has integrity is integrated. Writing is not merely which you do. It is what you are. You do not merely say: "This is how I see things. This is how things should be." You say: "This is what I am. This is how I must be"

According to the passage, Writing

1. Can express one's opinion and idea for something happen
 2. Is a freedom of expression or feeling of oneself
 3. Can reflect the attitudes and personalities of an individual.
 4. Is a form of expressing feeling into words in a sheet of paper.
 5. Reveals the whole self of an individual, his whole being of an individual.
74. There is no limit to what the human imagination can do----Even well-known historical facts can be twisted to suit the wild imaginings of some fertile brain. Unfortunately, historical distortions are not always harmless; sometimes they can ruin the reputation of individuals and families. They can even cause war between nations. We cannot control the minds of others. But we can control of our own. At least for ourselves, we should be very careful to weigh the facts, and never make a conclusion that is not supported by evidence.

According to the passage, one may conclude that.....

1. The human mind is so rational than other being
 2. Human imagination can lead to progress of a nation
 3. Human mind can easily make a facts and actions to the facts that they learn.
 4. Wrath between individuals, family and nation can lead to ruin, chaos and war.
 5. Human mind is uncontrollable and unpredictable
75. Sa karaniwang galaw ng mga pangyayari, mahirap din naman ang buhay ng ating mga lingkod bayan. Ang pangunahing gawain nila ay maglingkod sa mga nayon at munisipalidad. Ang maganda sana, kahit wala na sila sa tungkuli'y mamamalagi pa rin ang paggalang ng bayan sa kanila. Iyon ang maganda. Ang malungkot na parte ay kung hindi maganda ang ginawang paglilingkod. Lalo na kung sa panahon ng panunungkula'y naging mayabang at matapobre, na kung umarte-arte'y para bang hindi na matatapos ang pamamayagpag sa tungkulin. Kaya't isang paalala sa mga public servants, maglingkod tayo ng malinis at marangal. Sa gayong paraan, patay na tayo'y pinaguusapan pa ang ating karangalan at mga kabutihang nagawa natin sa bayan.

Ayon sa talata, Ang Public Servant ay dapat.....

1. Ay naglilingkod samga taga-nayon at bayan
